In the past, many youths had migrated to the urban cities in dire need of jobs, education and also in search of a better life. The sudden strike of Covid-19 let many returned home due to business shutdown leaving them with no livelihood opportunity. Therefore it is now imperative on the part of the government and NGOs to extend a hand holding support like intensive livelihood training and small credit support to young talented and promising youths of this region to enhance their skills. And grabbing this opportunity our Team (SEAT) along with Aban and Keki Gharda Memorial Foundation (AKGMF) joint hands together to support the skill trained youth for their own business start up that will help in bridging the demand and supply gap for the poor underserved migrant workers, and immensely help in reviving their livelihood activities.

LIVELIHOOD AND CAPACITY BUILDING TRAININGS

The spread of Covid -19 like wildfire has caused havoc on the state economy and the lives of thousands of people. Extended lockdown lead to exhaustion of their handful saving. The migrants are the one among those bearing the brunt of the crisis most. In our state, because of the diversified population different income group and social habits of the people has made a severe impact on the lifestyle. An unemployment rate is at the highest level. The desperate movement of huge number of migrants in this pandemic situation has erected a big challenge for the state to address the life and livelihood issue simultaneously with a limited resources and infrastructure facilities. Since this pandemic is so sudden and nobody is prepared for this most of the returnees are in chaos, not knowing what they will do back at home, and had no hopes for income generation in rural areas due to lack of employment. And since skill development is demanded for economic growth and inclusive development. Sustainable livelihood through skill development was needed and Youth must be equipped to contribute to social change and economic growth. So in this view of pandemic, Socio Economic Action Trust (SEAT) step forwards and take this opportunities as a blessing in disguise and provided 12 days capacity building to 410 migrants of 8 villages i.e Phungcham, Paorei, Halang, Ngarumphung, Ramrei, New Canaan, Wunghon and Thoyee of Ukhrul District on Animal husbandry, Mushroom cultivation, Food Processing, Bakery and Business Management. Along with the training we issued training Certificate to all the trainees. We chose these activities as natural resources are rich but the knowledge of utilization of the resources is less in the community. With this training and support migrants now have a way to earn living through locally based livelihood in their communities.
